POLICY STATEMENT

Give Where You Live respects every individual's legal right to privacy.

Give Where You Live is an 'APP entity' within the meaning of the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) (Privacy Act), which means it is obliged to adhere to the Australian Privacy Principles (APPs) when collecting, using and disclosing personal information.

This policy sets out Give Where You Live's procedures relating to the collection, holding, use and disclosure by Give Where You Live of personal information and sensitive information relating to an individual.

This Privacy Policy and use of the Give Where You Live website are governed by the laws of Australia. If a dispute arises under this Privacy Policy, you agree to attempt to resolve the dispute under those laws.

Give Where You Live's legal obligations are set out in full in the APPs contained in the Privacy Act. You can find these on the Privacy Commissioner's website at www.oaic.gov.au.

SCOPE

This policy applies to all Give Where You Live employees, volunteers, contractors and members who are engaged in Give Where You Live activities.

RESPONSIBILITIES

It is the responsibility of every person in scope to ensure he or she complies with this policy. Where a person is unsure of his or her obligations under this policy clarification should be sought from the Privacy Officer.

CONTENTS

1. MEANING OF WORDS

Anonymity is where an individual is not required to and does not identify him or herself when engaging with Give Where You Live.

Consent is a voluntary and informed agreement by an individual to something Give Where You Live does. Where Give Where You Live considers that a person is unable to give this consent to the use of his or her personal information for a particular purpose, Give Where You Live will ask that person's parent or guardian to provide the consent.

Direct marketing is the promotion of Give Where You Live fundraising, appeals, wills and bequests activities, to individuals and informing individuals of issues of general significance.

Health records are part of personal information and sensitive information, and include information or an opinion about a person's health or disability.

Law means the APPs, the Privacy Act, relevant Regulations, binding rules and guidelines made by the Privacy Commissioner and any other Australian law, including any amendments to such laws.

Personal information is information, or an opinion, about an individual who is reasonably identifiable, whether or not that information or opinion is recorded in some way, and whether or not the information or opinion is true. Personal information collected by Give Where You Live includes:

- (a) Name;
- (b) Residential address;
- (c) Date of birth;
- (d) Gender;
- (e) Bank details;
- (f) Employment or business;
- (g) Associations, including trusts and companies;
- (h) Contact details, including email address and telephone numbers; and
- (i) Information collected via electronic communications, which may include internet protocol addresses, the time, date and place of the communication.

Primary purpose – there are a large number of Give Where You Live activities that are primary purposes for which Give Where You Live collects information. Some examples are:

- (a) Providing program services to individuals;
- (b) Assessing, placing and engaging with Give Where You Live volunteers;
- (c) Providing training services;
- (d) Connecting with our members and supporters;
- (e) Conducting assessments and reference checks such as police checks through Crimtrac;
- (f) Soliciting donations from the public; and
- (g) Collecting personal histories and images for Give Where You Live archives and publication.

Pseudonym is a pet name or nickname that is used by an individual engaging with Give Where You Live where Give Where You Live is not obliged to collect that individual's true name.

Secondary purpose is, in the case of personal information, a purpose that is related to the primary purpose and, in the case of sensitive information, a purpose that is directly related to the primary purpose. Secondary purposes include:

- (a) Direct marketing;
- (b) Data use and collection for internal business purposes;
- (c) Storage and security of the information;
- (d) Complying with the Law.

Sensitive information is part of personal information and includes information Give Where You Live may collect. Sensitive information means information or an opinion about an individual's:

- (a) Racial or ethnic origin;

- (b) Political opinions;
- (c) Membership of a political association;
- (d) Religious beliefs or affiliations;
- (e) Philosophical beliefs;
- (f) Membership of a professional or trade association;
- (g) Membership of a trade union;
- (h) Sexual orientation or practices;
- (i) Criminal record;
- (j) Health information;
- (k) Genetic information; or
- (l) Biometric information or templates.

Solicited information is personal information that Give Where You Live takes active steps to collect.

Unsolicited information is personal information about an individual that Give Where You Live has not asked for but receives in some other way. An example is where misdirected mail is received by Give Where You Live.

2. OPEN AND TRANSPARENT MANAGEMENT OF INFORMATION

- (a) Give Where You Live will make this policy publicly available on its website at www.givewhereyoulive.com.au and will take reasonable steps to provide a copy of this policy, free of charge, to anyone who asks for it. A person may request a copy of the policy by contacting Give Where You Live by:

Telephone: 5229 4364

Email: admin@givewhereyoulive.com.au

- (b) When asked to do so by an individual, Give Where You Live will take reasonable steps (subject to the Law) to let the person know, generally, what sort of personal information Give Where You Live holds about that person, for what purposes, and how it collects, holds, uses and discloses that information.
- (c) Give Where You Live has put in place procedures, including this policy, to ensure that it complies with the APPs, and that individuals may approach Give Where You Live with any questions or complaints about Give Where You Live's compliance with the Law.

3. ANONYMITY AND PSEUDONYMITY

- (a) Where it is not unlawful or impracticable, individuals dealing with Give Where You Live will be given the option of not identifying themselves, or of using a pseudonym, when dealing with Give Where You Live.

4. COLLECTION

Personal Information

- (a) Give Where You Live has diverse operations. Because of that, Give Where You Live collects personal and sensitive information from individuals for many different purposes.
- (b) Give Where You Live will only collect personal information (other than sensitive information) when the information is reasonably necessary for or directly related to one or more of the Give Where You Live functions or activities and it will only collect personal information by lawful and fair means. Personal Information is collected when you:
 - (i) provide it to Give Where You Live;
 - (ii) visit and browse the Give Where You Live website;
 - (iii) interact with Give Where You Live electronically, via social media (including Facebook, Instagram and Twitter); or
 - (iv) contact Give Where You Live by email, telephone or facsimile.
- (c) Where it is reasonable and practicable to do so, Give Where You Live will only collect personal information from the individual it relates to.
- (d) At or before the time Give Where You Live collects personal information from an individual, or as soon as practicable after that, Give Where You Live will take reasonable steps to ensure that the individual is aware of the following:
 - (i) That Give Where You Live is the collector, and how to contact Give Where You Live;
 - (ii) The facts and circumstances of the collection – for example, whether the information is collected by phone, by software applications (e.g. cookies), or from a third party;
 - (iii) That the individual is able to access that information and ask for it to be corrected;
 - (iv) The purposes for which the information is collected, both the primary purpose, and where there is a related purpose, that secondary purpose;
 - (v) Organisations (or the types of organisations) to which Give Where You Live usually discloses information of the kind being collected;
 - (vi) Details of any Law or a court/tribunal order that requires the information to be collected;
 - (vii) Whether or not that information will be transferred overseas (including information stored in the cloud) and to what countries (if known); and
 - (viii) The main consequences (if any) for the individual if all or part of the information is not provided by that individual.

such information may be provided by providing the individual with a copy of this policy, or making a copy publically available, and providing any additional or supplementary information required.

- (e) If Give Where You Live collects solicited information about an individual from a third party, Give Where You Live will take reasonable steps to ensure that the Commented [CR1]: This will mean that in many circumstances, access to the Privacy Statement and this Privacy Policy will comply with the requirements, however in some circumstances you may be required to provide additional information such as where information is collected pursuant to a Law or Order, or the purposes of collection if that is not clear and any secondary purposes.

individual is or has been made aware that the information has been collected, how it was collected, and from whom, and will comply with the requirements of paragraph 4(d).

- (f) Give Where You Live may collect information from a third party where:
 - (i) The third party is Give Where You Live's Related Bodies Corporate (as defined in the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth)), business partners, credit reporting bodies, or your representatives; or
 - (ii) You have consented to the collection of the information; or
 - (iii) Give Where You Live is required, or authorised under Law, or a court/tribunal, to do so; or
 - (iv) It is unreasonable or impracticable to obtain the information from you; or
 - (v) The information is publicly available.
- (g) Where it receives unsolicited personal information, Give Where You Live must decide within a reasonable period of time whether that personal information about an individual could have been lawfully collected by the Give Where You Live itself, and:
 - (i) If so, the information will be dealt with in accordance with this privacy policy and paragraph 4(d) will be complied with in relation to that information; or
 - (ii) If not, and the information is not contained in a Commonwealth record, Give Where You Live will, as soon as practicable, but only if lawful and reasonable to do so, destroy the information or ensure that the information is de-identified, unless the information must be dealt with differently by Law.

Sensitive Information

- (h) Give Where You Live will not collect sensitive information about an individual unless:
 - (i) The individual has consented to the collection of that information and the information is reasonably necessary for Give Where You Live to carry out one or more of its functions or activities; or
 - (ii) The collection of the information is required or authorised by or under the Law or a court/tribunal order; or
 - (iii) There are some special situations under the Law that allow the use or disclosure of sensitive information without consent.
- (i) In each case, if it does this, Give Where You Live will comply with the relevant Laws about this use of disclosure. Some of these special situations are:
 - (i) Where Give Where You Live reasonably believes the use or disclosure is necessary to lessen or prevent a serious threat to the life, health or safety of an individual or to public health or safety;
 - (ii) Give Where You Live has reason to suspect an individual may have done something unlawful or engaged in serious misconduct that relates to Give Where You Live functions or activities, and Give Where You Live needs to disclose the information so that it can take appropriate action; or

- (iii) Give Where You Live reasonably believes that the use or disclosure is reasonably necessary to assist another person to locate a person reported as missing.

The complete list of these special situations is contained in the Law.

- (j) Give Where You Live will notify you as soon as practicable should it obtain or require Sensitive Information about you, where that Sensitive Information is not provided to Give Where You Live by you.

5. USE AND DISCLOSURE

Primary purpose

- (a) Give Where You Live may use personal information collected from an individual for a primary purpose notified to that individual.
- (b) Where the information is sensitive information, Give Where You Live may only use that information for a primary purpose or a directly related purpose the individual has consented to.

Secondary Purpose

- (c) Give Where You Live may sometimes use or disclose personal information about an individual for a secondary purpose. However, Give Where You Live will only use or disclose personal information about an individual for a secondary purpose in limited circumstances. Give Where You Live will, wherever reasonably possible, seek consent from individuals before using their personal information for a secondary purpose.
- (d) Give Where You Live may use personal information about an individual for a secondary purpose if:
 - (i) The individual has consented to the use or disclosure; or
 - (ii) The individual would reasonably expect Give Where You Live to use or disclose the information for the secondary purpose and the secondary purpose is:
 - (A) If the information is sensitive information, it is directly related to the primary purpose; or
 - (B) If the information is not sensitive information, it is related to the primary purpose; or
 - (C) The use or disclosure of the information is required or authorised by or under the Law or a court/tribunal order; or
 - (D) Some special situations set out in the Law allow the use or disclosure of personal information without consent. In each case, if it does this, Give Where You Live will comply with the relevant Laws. Some of these special situations are:
 - (1) Where Give Where You Live reasonably believes the use or disclosure is necessary to lessen or prevent a serious threat to the life, health or safety of an individual or to public health or safety;
 - (2) Give Where You Live has reason to suspect an individual may have done something unlawful or engaged in serious misconduct that relates to Give Where You Live functions or activities, and Give Where You Live needs to disclose the information so that it can take appropriate action; or

- (3) Give Where You Live reasonably believes that the use or disclosure is reasonably necessary to assist another person to locate a person reported as missing, or
- (4) Give Where You Live reasonably believes that the use or disclosure of the information is reasonably necessary for an enforcement body's enforcement related activities (and Give Where You Live will make a written note that Give Where You Live has used the information for that purpose).

The complete list of these special situations is contained in the Law.

6. DIRECT MARKETING

- (a) Give Where You Live may only use personal information about an individual for Direct marketing where an exception applies under the Law. In every situation where Give Where You Live is permitted to use or disclose personal information for direct marketing, Give Where You Live will allow the individual to 'opt out' and will act on the individual's request to 'opt out'.
- (b) Give Where You Live may use personal information (other than sensitive information) about an individual for direct marketing if:
 - (i) Give Where You Live collected the information from the individual and:
 - (A) The individual would reasonably expect Give Where You Live to use or disclose the information for Direct marketing; and
 - (B) Give Where You Live has provided a simple means so that the individual can easily request not to receive Direct marketing communications from Give Where You Live; and
 - (C) The individual has not made a prior request to Give Where You Live to not receive Direct marketing communications from Give Where You Live;
 - (ii) Give Where You Live collected the information from someone other than the individual and:
 - (A) Either the individual has consented to the use or disclosure for the purpose, or it is impracticable to obtain the individual's consent; and
 - (B) In each Direct marketing communication with the individual, Give Where You Live includes a prominent statement that the individual can ask not to receive further direct marketing communications from Give Where You Live; or
 - (C) Give Where You Live otherwise draws the individual's attention in some other way to the fact that the individual may make that request; and
 - (D) The individual has not made a request asking Give Where You Live to stop sending direct marketing communications;

- (c) If Give Where You Live uses or discloses personal information about an individual for:
 - (i) Direct marketing, an individual may ask Give Where You Live to stop sending Direct marketing communications from Give Where You Live and Give Where You Live must do that within 14 days after receiving the request unless exceptional circumstances apply; or
 - (ii) Where the personal information is used for the purpose of facilitating Direct marketing by other organisations on behalf of Give Where You Live, an individual may request Give Where You Live not to use or disclose the individual's information for Direct marketing by other organisations and Give Where You Live must act on that request within 14 days after receiving the request (unless exceptional circumstances apply).
- (d) The individual may request Give Where You Live provide details of where his or her personal information came from (e.g. which other organisation) and Give Where You Live must do so within 14 days after receiving the request (except in exceptional circumstances) unless it is impractical or unreasonable to do so.
- (e) Give Where You Live will not charge any individual for the making of, or to give effect to, these requests.

7. GOVERNMENT RELATED IDENTIFIERS

- (a) Give Where You Live will not adopt a government related identifier of an individual as its own identifier of the individual unless the adoption of the government related identifier is required or authorised by Law or a court/tribunal order.
- (b) Give Where You Live will not use or disclose a government related identifier of an individual unless:
 - (i) The use or disclosure of the identifier is reasonably necessary for Give Where You Live to verify the identity of the individual for the purposes of the Give Where You Live's activities or functions; or
 - (ii) The use or disclosure of the identifier is reasonably necessary for Give Where You Live to fulfil its obligations to an agency or a State or Territory authority; or
 - (iii) The use or disclosure of the identifier is required or authorised by or under the Law or a court/tribunal order; or
 - (iv) Some of the special situations under the Law allows the use or disclosure. In each case, if it does this, Give Where You Live will comply with the relevant Law. Some of these special situations are:
 - (A) Where Give Where You Live reasonably believes the use or disclosure is necessary to lessen or prevent a serious threat to the life, health or safety of an individual or to public health or safety;
 - (B) Give Where You Live has reason to suspect an individual may have done something unlawful or engaged in serious misconduct that relates to Give Where You Live functions or activities, and Give Where You Live needs to disclose the information so that it can take appropriate action; or

- (C) Give Where You Live reasonably believes that the use or disclosure is reasonably necessary to assist another person to locate a person reported as missing; or
- (D) Give Where You Live reasonably believes that the use or disclosure of the information is reasonably necessary for an enforcement body's enforcement related activities (and Give Where You Live will make a written note that Give Where You Live has used the information for that purpose).

(c) The complete list of these special situations is contained in the Law.

8. CROSS BORDER DISCLOSURE OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

- (a) Occasionally, Give Where You Live may transfer personal information to an organisation (other than Give Where You Live or the individual concerned) that is in a foreign country or, Give Where You Live may store some personal information on databases that are in the cloud. Give Where You Live databases are currently stored on servers in Japan, Germany, France, the United Kingdom, Canada and the United States.
- (b) Give Where You Live will only send information overseas if it has taken reasonable steps to ensure that the transferred information, will not be held, used or disclosed by the recipient organisation inconsistently with the APPs. Give Where You Live will assess this by asking, amongst other things:
 - (i) Is the organisation receiving the information subject to a Law, binding scheme or contract which effectively upholds principles for fair handling of the information that are substantially similar to the APPs, and are there ways an individual can enforce the privacy right?;
 - (ii) Has the individual concerned consented to the information transfer after having been advised that Give Where You Live will not be taking reasonable steps to ensure that the transferred information is held, used or disclosed by the recipient consistently with the APPs?;
 - (iii) Is the use or disclosure of the information required or authorised by or under the Law or a court/tribunal order?; and
 - (iv) Are there special situations set out in the Privacy Act that permit the trans-border transfer of personal information?
 - (v) In each case, if it transfers information because of a special situation, Give Where You Live will comply with the relevant Laws.

Commented [CR2]: APP 1.4(g) requires that if the entity is likely to disclose personal information to overseas recipients, the countries in which such recipients are likely to be located should be specified if it is practicable. As such we have included all of the countries listed on the salesforce website for server locations that may be used, however it is likely that the servers for the Asia Pacific region are in Japan and Sydney.

9. DATA QUALITY

- (a) Give Where You Live will take all reasonable steps to ensure that the personal information it collects is accurate, complete and up-to-date and relevant, having regard to the purposes of the use or disclosure of the personal information that is collected.
- (b) If at any time your Personal Information changes, contact the Privacy Officer on the details below so that it can update Give Where You Live's records.

10. DATA SECURITY AND HANDLING

- (a) Protecting your Personal Information is a priority for Give Where You Live. Give Where You Live may hold your Personal Information in electronic and physical files or on secure servers, storage and archive systems, including the Cloud.

- (b) The Personal Information Give Where You Live holds about you is treated confidentially and is only accessed when necessary.
- (c) Whilst Give Where You Live takes caution to protect your Personal Information, no data transmission over the internet or electronically can be completely secure. Once Give Where You Live has received your Personal Information, Give Where You Live will take all appropriate measures to use procedures and programs to ensure that the information on its systems is secure. Give Where You Live will take reasonable steps to protect the Personal Information it retains from misuse, loss and from unauthorised access, modification or disclosure.
- (d) Give Where You Live will not be liable for any loss, corruption, delay or loss of confidentiality arising from any data or information transmitted electronically if it has followed appropriate virus checking and privacy procedures.
- (e) You may also assist Give Where You Live to keep your Personal Information secure by ensuring appropriate back-up, security and virus check procedures are in place for any data or information provided to or received from Give Where You Live electronically.
- (f) Give Where You Live data handling practices are regularly reviewed. All sensitive information is separately stored and shared among employees on a need to know basis only.
- (g) Training and guidance to Give Where You Live personnel has been established to support this privacy policy.
- (h) Give Where You Live will take all reasonable steps to destroy or permanently de-identify personal information about an individual that it holds, if the information is no longer needed for any purpose for which it is able to be used or disclosed, and where there is no Law or court/tribunal that requires Give Where You Live to keep the information.

11. ACCESS AND CORRECTION

- (a) If Give Where You Live holds personal information about an individual, and the individual wants access to that information, Give Where You Live will provide the individual with access to that information unless any of the following exceptions apply:
 - (i) Give Where You Live reasonably believes that giving access would pose a serious threat to the life, health or safety of any individual, or to public health or public safety; or
 - (ii) Giving access would have an unreasonable impact upon the privacy of other individuals; or
 - (iii) The request for access is frivolous or vexatious; or
 - (iv) The information relates to existing or anticipated legal proceedings between Give Where You Live and the individual, and the information would not be provided by the process of discovery in those proceedings; or
 - (v) Providing access would reveal the intentions of Give Where You Live in relation to negotiations with the individual in such a way as to prejudice those negotiations; or
 - (vi) Providing access would be unlawful; or

- (vii) Denying access is required or authorised by or under the Law or a court/tribunal order; or
- (viii) Any of the following apply:
 - (A) Give Where You Live has reason to suspect that unlawful activity, or misconduct of a serious nature, that relates the Give Where You Live functions or activities has been or is being or may be engaged in and giving access would be likely to prejudice the taking of appropriate action in relation to the matter; or
 - (B) Providing access would be likely to prejudice one or more enforcement related activities conducted by, or on behalf of, an enforcement body; or
 - (C) Giving access would reveal evaluative information generated within Give Where You Live in connection with a commercially sensitive decision-making process.
- (b) Give Where You Live will respond to an access request within a reasonable period after the request is made and will give access to the personal information in the manner requested by the individual, if it is reasonable and practicable to do so.
- (c) If Give Where You Live refuses to give access to personal information in the manner requested by the individual or because one or more of the exceptions referred to in paragraph 11(a) of this policy apply, Give Where You Live will give the individual a written notice about the refusal that complies with the Law and includes information about how a person can make a complaint about the refusal.
- (d) An individual can ask Give Where You Live to correct personal information held by Give Where You Live. Give Where You Live will respond to the request within a reasonable period of time after the request is made and will take reasonable steps to correct the information to ensure that it is accurate, up to date, complete, relevant and not misleading. Give Where You Live may also take steps itself, if Give Where You Live finds personal information it holds about an individual is inaccurate, out of date, incomplete, irrelevant or misleading.
- (e) If Give Where You Live refuses to correct the personal information when requested to do so by an individual, Give Where You Live will give the individual a written notice about the refusal that complies with the Law and includes information about how a person can make a complaint about the refusal.
- (f) Where Give Where You Live has previously disclosed personal information about the individual to another entity, an individual can request Give Where You Live to notify that entity of corrections made to their personal information. Give Where You Live will take all reasonable steps to give that notification unless it is impracticable or unlawful to do so.
- (g) An individual can request Give Where You Live to attach a statement to information saying that the information is inaccurate, out of date, incomplete, irrelevant or misleading. Give Where You Live will answer that request within a reasonable period after it is made and will take reasonable steps to ensure the statement is able to be seen by the users of the information.

12. COMPLAINTS

- (a) Give Where You Live will consider complaints made by an individual in relation to:
 - (i) A decision by Give Where You Live to refuse access to personal information requested by the individual; or

- (ii) A decision not to correct an individual's personal information.
- (b) Give Where You Live will respond within a reasonable period after the complaint is received.
- (c) Give Where You Live's response to a complaint is final.
- (d) Any individual may make a complaint about how Give Where You Live handles an individual's personal information to the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner

(OAIC). Further information is available on the OAIC website: www.oaic.gov.au/privacy/privacy-complaints

13. PRIVACY OFFICER CONTACT DETAILS

- (a) All queries or complaints regarding this Privacy Policy, or requests for access to, or correction of, personal information should be directed to Give Where You Live's Privacy Office.
